Western Adirondack and Leatherstocking Region Urban Forestry Workshop

Planting trees correctly is critical to their long-term health and survival. Join the Western Adirondack and Leatherstocking Region ReLeaf Committee for a half-day, hands-on tree planting workshop that will teach attendees best practices to help ensure their next tree planting project is a success.

The workshop will include:

- A presentation on the dig-safe practices outlined in the UDig NY Program;
- Information on tree planting basics, the importance of tree species diversity, and tree selection; and
- A demonstration showing best practices for tree planting.

This workshop will take place rain or shine. Please dress accordingly.

MAKE EVERY TREE COUNT!

Help New York State meet its goal of planting 25 million trees by 2033! Whether you plant one tree or many, scan the QR code to enter it into the Tree Tracker. Visit on.ny.gov/25milliontrees for more information.

New York's Community Forestry Partners

New York ReLeaf

ReLeaf is a statewide program managed by the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation's (DEC) UCF Program in partnership with the NYS Urban Forestry Council (NYSUFC). ReLeaf brings together professionals and others to share information about our community forests and how to improve them. Volunteer members of ReLeaf include interested citizens, forestry professionals, representatives of environmental not-for-profits, local government officials, and municipal staff.

New York State Urban Forestry Council

NYSUFC is a not-for-profit organization that advises and assists DEC's UCF Program in the implementation of statewide urban and community forestry programs.

Funding for DEC's UCF Program and the NYSUFC, including ReLeaf, is provided in part by a grant from the USDA Forest Service.
